Online verification of qualifications

You can verify some qualifications at no charge via our Verification of Qualifications resource, found on the Bond University website. This online facility allows you to search our database for graduates with a matching surname, date of birth and given name (optional). A successful search will confirm the graduate's qualification and the date of conferral. No other information can be released without authorisation.

Records which are not available online

The University is unable to provide the free online service if the student has completed program requirements but an award has not yet been conferred. In these instances, verification can only be obtained by completing and lodging this form.
